Wirtschaftspolitische Gespräche

Donnerstag, 7. September 2017, 10 - 12 Uhr (anschließend Mittagsbuffet) WKO Sky Lounge, 4., Wiedner Hauptstraße 63

The Future of Europe

Since the start of the Eurozone crisis, Europe has developed new institutions and implemented important reforms. The European Stability Mechanism, the Banking Union and tightened policy surveillance and coordination aim to improve incentives and control for more cooperation and better economic development in Europe. The management of the refugee crisis, Brexit and continued tensions in the Eurozone including disagreements about common monetary policy cast new doubts on the future of Europe. What are the benefits and costs of economic and monetary integration? Which policy functions need centralization and how much autonomy must Member States give up? What should the future relationship between the European Union and the US ("America First") or Great Britain after Brexit look like?

Welcoming Address

Martha Schulz

Vice President, Austrian Federal Economic Chamber

Keynote Lecture

Prof. Paul De Grauwe

John Paulsen Chair in European Political Economy, London School of Economics, and Member of Belgian Parliament 1991-2003

Discussion

Prof. Christian Keuschnigg

Professor of Economics, University of St. Gallen, and Director of WPZ

Moderation

Dr. Christoph M. Schneider

Director of Economic Policy Division, Austrian Federal Economic Chamber

Eine Kooperation von

und

Die Veranstaltung findet in englischer Sprache statt

Bitte um Anmeldung bis 1. September 2017 unter: wp@wko.at